

SWEEPING DIMENSIONS CONTRIBUTING TO GREEN

What we're doing to help the environment!

What does "Green" really mean?

Going green is about embracing the principles of environmental responsibility by making different choices to lessen our negative impact on the environment.

Sweeping Dimensions has introduced a green cleaning program using products that reduce environmental impact and protect the health of the clients we serve and our staff. Implementing this program does not mean that we do not use traditional cleaning methods or that they have created unsafe conditions. Our program should be viewed as simply taking additional steps towards reducing pollution while continuing to maintain and improve the healthiness, comfort and aesthetics of our client's homes and businesses.

One of the most significant changes we have adopted is the use of microfiber cloths and mops during our cleaning routine. Microfiber cloths and mops are environmentally friendly. They are lightweight and can therefore be washed in large quantities, greatly reducing water and energy consumption. They also take up less physical space reducing both transport and storage costs.

Additional benefits to using microfiber are:

- Microfiber cloths are hypoallergenic. Great for people suffering from allergies or asthma.
- Microfiber cloths are super absorbent. They absorb over 7 times their weight in water.
- Microfiber cloths dry in 1/3 the time of ordinary cleaning towels.
- Microfiber cloths are over 4 times more effective than ordinary cleaning towels. They clean almost any stain from any surface, are more plush & longer lasting than other cleaning products and contain more than 200,000 fibers per square inch.
- Microfiber cloths are completely lint free and non-abrasive.

We have also incorporated purchasing products as concentrates rather than as ready-to-use mixtures. As a result, we use trigger bottles and pump sprayers - which do not need propellants. This reduces packaging materials and their potential burden on the environment as well as fuel, vehicle emissions, and other impacts of transportation.

We believe that green cleaning benefits everyone especially those with special needs and sensitivities. In cases where an individual(s) have allergic reactions we address their specific needs and make appropriate changes to products, procedures, and scheduling as necessary.

We realize that every home/office being maintained has different cleaning requirements. Therefore, we use a personalized approach to cleaning your home/office!

Sweeping Dimensions strives to make life a little less stressful.

(312) 475-0900

WWW.SWEEPINGDIMENSIONS.COM

Sweeping Dimensions Cleaning Service, Inc.

P.O. Box 3187
Oak Park, IL 60303